Christmas is the time of giving, and it was evident at the Drayton Valley Health Complex last week. Irene Sawchuk, 84, gives a kiss to a girl from the Tomahawk kindergarten class. The class was at the complex giving a Christmas program for the residents of the extended care.

Local services don't change much for the holidays

Local services won't be affected that much by Christmas and New Year's.

If you're still shopping and need some cash, be aware that most banks will close early on Wednesday. In fact, the Credit Union will close at noon followed by the Toronto-Dominion (TD), Royal, Montreal and Treasury Branch at 3 p.m. Your last chance will be at the Nova Scotia, where they stay open til 4 p.m.

The only place to do your banking on Saturday, Dec. 27 will be the Credit Union.

They will be open from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

All the financial institutions in town will be open as usual next Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 29 and 30. The TD, Royal, Montreal and the Treasury Branch will close at 3 p.m. on Wednesday, Dec. 31 (New Year's Eve) followed by the Credit Union and the Nova Scotia at 4 p.m.

If you've left that trip to the liquor store to the last, don't fret. The ALCO outlet in Drayton Valley will remain open until 6 p.m. on Wednesday.

day. It will be business as usual on Dec. 27, 29, 30 and 31.

Postmaster: Letroy Robinson says his staff will maintain regular hours, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. throughout the holidays.

The town office will also maintain regular hours, 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Dec. 24

Town plans a big birthday bash

Upwards of 600 people are expected to attend Drayton Valley's 30th birthday celebrations in February. Mayor Bob Mayhew told the recent Chamber of Commerce general meeting the organizing committee was hoping for 600 people to attend a Feb. 7 banquet at the Rec Plex.

The mayor added the banquet would be a combined birthday and reunion.

The mayor, chamber president Marty Prentice, former mayor Nevis LaBranche and Jeannette Vatter make up the organizing committee.

Budget cuts won't affect proposed MD

Threatened cuts in the provincial budget shouldn't affect plans for a new Drayton Valley municipal district, Alberta Municipal Affairs says.

In fact, municipal affairs is continuing its work demonstrating the feasibility of a new district before Alberta Municipal Affairs Minister Neil Crawford makes the final decision whether to form a new jurisdiction in the Drayton Valley area.

Spending cuts that are looming won't affect plans for creating a new municipal district, said Tom Lauder, deputy minister of finance and research.

"The economy doesn't really matter, it's what the people want," he said.

"Our department is still doing some additional work on that."

"We're just trying to reassess the feasibility of the boundaries that have been determined by the plebiscite."

Last fall, a majority of Drayton Valley-area residents voted in favor of a new municipal district that would include portions of Leduc, Wetaskiwin and Parkland counties as well as Improvement District 14.

However, the idea failed in two of six districts that were created for the referendum. Both districts lie in the County of Leduc.

Once the work is completed, along with another requested by ID 14, municipal affairs will pass the information to the minister for a final decision.

ID 14 located in the northwest portion of several possible configurations for a new municipal district, could lose up to 20 per cent of their assessment if the proposed boundaries are unchanged.

That has the district council worried enough to request the study to show how the district may be affected.

ID 14 council doesn't oppose the creation of a new municipality — as long as it doesn't overly infringe on ID territory, chairman Arnold Jorgensen said.

"The thing is, the portion that is being taken is a major portion of our assessment."

"We just hope that we have some impact stating our concerns a little bit. We've never gone on record as opposed to forming a municipality."

There should be room for compromise on boundaries that would leave the district with some of the lucrative, oil resource developments, he said.

"If they can do it without invading us that much, they should be able to do it. But for gosh sakes, don't take a portion that's going to affect another municipality."

Jorgensen said Alberta Municipal Affairs' preliminary report should soon be ready.

Town, union talking

Negotiations have started between Canadian Union of Public Employees (CUPE) Local 2315 and the Town of Drayton Valley.

A two-year contract for 20 employees with the town expires Dec. 31.

However, even before the two sides sit down at the bargaining table, talks have hit a snag.

According to a CUPE spokesman, the town submitted four dates, with the first one set for 2 p.m. on Dec. 24. Others were set for Sunday, Dec. 28, 30 and 31. These dates are not acceptable by the union, and it now appears talks will have to wait until early in January.

Although no exact details were given, the new two year contract involves a small increase and a number of word changes.

Two years ago a provincial mediator was needed to settle the issue, which stretched into an eight month ordeal.

Cool for Christmas

There is a 60 per cent chance of blizzards today (Tuesday) according to the forecast for Drayton Valley and area from the Edmonton weather office. Highs should be near 1°C with lows dipping to -7°C.

On Wednesday the forecast calls for clouds with a 20 per cent chance of precipitation and highs near -5°C with lows at -11°C.

For Christmas day clouds with highs near -4°C and lows near -11°C are expected. There is a 30 per cent chance of precipitation.

On Friday it will be sunny with lows at -15°C and highs reaching -6°C. The probability of precipitation is 10 per cent.

Appreciation handed out for hard work

'Tis the time of the year for reminiscing. With Christmas just a day or two away, and my second year just about completed (arrived in Drayton Valley on New Year's Day 1985), it's that time of the year to reflect on the past 12 months.

One of the most gratifying aspects of the past year has been the utilization of the paper. Hardly a week goes by when someone doesn't call in, suggesting a story or asking for coverage of an event. That type of response is most appreciated.

We're also very appreciative of the advertisers who used our pages to get their message out. If you have all the papers from the past year, one of the biggest differences you'll see is the creativity that has gone into the ads. This is a combination of the advertisers, our sales department (Kelly Stone, Doris Hendrix and Linda McGinn) working with our production department (Lori Clark, Karin Ness and Susan Hight).

Editor's Notes

Besides the new ideas being generated in our sales and production departments, the editorial side of the business has seen some drastic changes in the past year.

We've stayed with a lot of our people picture features, and in keeping pace with time, added some news ideas on the front page. We also added Coffee With Chris (Kreiser) and The Notebook (written by the County Police).

Our area correspondents also play a 'major' role in the success of The Western Review. These people who submit their weekly news include Mae Tyron (Lin-dale/Berrymoor), Bonnie Hunter (Rocky Rapids), Helen Hensault (Carrot Creek), Dianne Osborne (Evansburg/Entwistle), Hazel Winfield (Wildwood), Bernice Johnson (Alder Flats), LeOpal Larsson (Buck Lake), Alma Johnson (Moon Lake), Dorothy Domke (Tomahawk), Shelli Carson (Breton) and Donna Haukedal who writes about area senior citizens.

The biggest story of the past year had to be the floods. The coverage we provided was only possible through the cooperation of many people. Special thanks are extended to DV Air Service (Ron Wade), the County Police and the RCMP.

One final note.....make sure and get our Dec. 30th edition. It will be something you'll want to keep around, if only for the memories of '86.

Chamber priority in '87 is to increase membership

The Drayton Valley and District Chamber of Commerce will be looking for more credibility in '87.

President Marty Prentice told a recent general meeting the chamber had suffered some growing pains the past three years. "We hope to get over the bumps and get more credibility," he stated.

One of his main concerns is being accepted fully by the community. "It's been difficult getting the oil patch involved," Prentice added.

One of the chamber's priorities in '87 will be to increase their membership. "I'd like to see more of the general membership involved," the re-elected president explained.

Other priorities Prentice will take to his next executive include long-range planning to five-year plan and budgets, a new tourist booth, portable float, new place mats and promotion of Highway 22.

"We've come a long way, but there's more room for growth," Prentice concluded.

Town gets CRC funds

Minor hockey has decided to turn their Community Recreation Cultural (CRC) grant back to the town.

President Marti McKinley says she has been talking with town officials, and the $49,820 minor hockey applied for, will be put in their arena/complex account.

McKinley says she decided to give the money to the town following the recent council/Community Centre Society meeting. The minor hockey president said she was pleased with the way things went at the meeting and, "I never planned not to turn it over. I wanted to see which way things were going."

Farmer's Market closes

Lynn Merschel plans to put her feet up for the next three months.

Merschel, manager of the Drayton Valley Farmer's Market, made the comment last Wednesday, as the curtain came down on another very successful season.

It was a year that saw the market move out of the Elks Hall due to rent increases, and into the Derrick Mall.

Merschel and many of the market exhibitors, agreed last week the move indoors at the mall was good for business. The move also resulted in the number of tables going from a high of 29 at the Elks Hall to 50 for the last seven weeks.

About the only problem the market people have with the Derrick Mall is the parking. But Merschel says, "it doesn't matter where you are, there's a problem".

Merschel plans to meet with the mall merchants association in the new year to clear the way for their '87 opener on April 8.

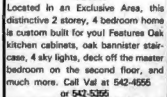

Eva McGinn cleans up her table after the final Farmer's Market of the season held last week in the Derrick Mall.

Reader shocked over new wildlife plan

Dear Editor,
SHOCKED.

That's the only word that comes to mind.

I have just put down Tuesday's (Dec. 16) Edmonton Journal. On page A4 there is an article with the heading "Gov't asks poacher to nab poachers."

It goes on to explain that because of a shortage of money, the fish and wildlife division has to trim its manpower and cut down the amount of hours their officers patrol the areas from five days to one. Also, it asks the public to phone in all the offences they see, "to snitch on each other." I have never heard of such an idiotic scheme in all my life!

Our fish and wildlife will now be in trouble! I know, and a lot of other people know, that the only thing that is controlling the poaching of our fish and wildlife are the conservation officers on patrol.

By cutting their hours and the road time, the government is saying "Go ahead and poach all you can; we don't care."

Well I do! I hunt and fish. I also enjoy it, but I am always careful and respect the wildlife and its habitat. I would very much like my son to be able to hunt and fish if he has an interest in it.

A plan like the one the government has just come up with will do nothing but decimate what wildlife we have left in this country. Moose, elk and deer would disappear like the carrier pigeon, buffalo and bison. When will they learn?

If anything, they should increase the amount of officers that Alberta has. The area that a fish and wildlife officer has to cover now is so vast that he does not have a hope in hell of covering it effectively. In my opinion, they are already stretching their force to the limit.

We must learn to manage our wildlife and fish resources, not decimate them by uncontrolled butchering, which is what will happen if this plan goes ahead.

Protect our wildlife; protect, manage and farm it efficiently and effectively, so it will last my lifetime and that of many future generations. Then people can enjoy our natural, renewable resources without looking through bars.

Yours sincerely,
Robert J. Bayley

Taxpayer offers suggestions on sidewalk snow removal

Dear Editor,

I, as a taxpayer, wish to give my opinion regarding your stern warning regarding the sidewalk bylaw on snow removal.

I first will ask how many on town council do live on old age pension? I know and I'm sure not one of you.

After age 65, do you wish and want to go out in zero weather and shovel your sidewalk? Do you all realize how much an old age pensioner lives on? Somewhere around $220 a month.

Do you pay water, gas, power and a much-needed telephone for doctors, ambulance service? Thank goodness social services and Alberta Health pay for most of these, otherwise they couldn't live.

Again, they have to eat and that takes about $150 per month, if not more. Do you on town council find yourself in this position? I would appreciate a straight forward answer please.

A suggestion. Instead of our good people who find themselves paying fines in court, why not suggest this be paid directly to the town officer and have them do labor to the amount of the fine they are having to pay and keep the money in home base?

They have court costs and a fine, our tax money gone. There are ample summer and winter jobs to be done. How about some thought about this, town council?

Thank you,
Don Andrew

Thank you for the party

Dear Editor,

May I take this opportunity of saying thank you to all the people in Drayton Valley who made our December birthday party such a success.

The Church of Jesus Christ Latter Day Saints has always been an inspiration to me. Thanks for the beautiful cake, which I have in the kitchen and thanks for the great rock arrangement for the birthday people.

Without a doubt, we have the greater number of attractive people per capita of any small town in Northern Alberta.

Do be careful of your Christmas lights and candles and may the good Lord bless and keep you all on this day forward forever.

Come over and see us all at Christmas time.

Sincerely,
Bruce Hogarth

Poor excuse

Dear Editor,

Re: council cancels tax penalty.

My conclusion is that if the only excuse was he is a senior citizen, it's not good enough.

Anyone who owns a large enough home to have that large a tax bill knows that taxes are due every year.

His trip to the town office should have been made much earlier, to find out how much his taxes were.

Oil Wives

Club ends year on a festive note

By Virginia Kusek
The December meeting of Oil Wives was a delightful encounter with Christmas spirit.

The evening started with a lively group of Oil Wives carolers bumping around Drayton Valley behind a tractor delivering gifts of song and goodies.

The festive mood prevailed all evening. Rounds of carols broke out as members filed toward a hot roast beef supper, topped with Christmas pudding and rum sauce, all supplied by the United Church Women.

Specially honored at the meeting was Lil Ross. Her list of credits within the club spans almost three decades and is part of the reason she was named Drayton Valley's citizen of the year.

Joyce Hayduk volunteered to spearhead a committee to decorate the Rec Plex for the town's 30th anniversary party.

And then there was Santa. He delivered gifts from Secret Sisters and Oil Wife friends and executive members.

With months of preparation behind them, the Oil Wives' choir led by Lil Ross, presented one of four concerts of the season. They enchanted the members with song, dance and humor highlighting the fun and friendship of an Oil Wives Christmas.

New MD

The wait continues

Bob Booth checks the mail everyday.

But so far Booth, chairman of the Yes Group, Western Ratepayers, hasn't received any confirmation from municipal affairs on the establishment of a new municipal district.

"Your guess is as good as mine," Booth commented last Thursday on when a decision might be made. Booth's group have been hoping for some sort of answer by the end of December or early in January.

The delay also scares Booth. It could mean some other type of study.

Remember to have a happy and safe Christmas!

To old friends and new, we're especially happy to be able to offer our thanks for a wonderful year, along with warmest wishes for a very Merry Christmas.

"Did you get the number of that truck?" might have been the thoughts going through Broncos' Murray Mueller's head after being hit by Devils' Mike Benoit. Above, Mueller's helmet and stick go flying after the collision.

Pankewicz and Allen show continues

Drayton Valley was the scene of two more blowouts on the weekend.

Not the oilpatch variety, but on ice.

It was part of the Trent Pankewicz and Chad Allen show.

The Devils' linemates combined for 11 goals and 10 assists to lead the local junior team to two wins. Friday night they humiliated Spruce Grove 16-0 and then clobbered Barrhead 14-3 Saturday night.

Pankewicz scored three times and added four assists in Friday's game; then chalked up two goals, two assists Saturday for an 11-point weekend. Allen picked up two hat-tricks, along with three assists Friday and one assist Saturday.

The pair led the team in scoring as Allen had recorded 22 goals and 25 assists for 47 points while Pankewicz had 16 goals and 23 assists for 41 points.

The other big gun for the local junior B team was Kevin Hutchinson as he scored twice and earned two assists in each game.

Drayton Valley led 5-0 after one, 11-0 after two and rounded it out 16-0 over the visiting Spruce Grove Broncos. The Devils' scoring was rounded out by Robin Cockwill with two goals and two assists, singles from Tim Allen, Darren Fedorus, Rod Poffenroth, Jeff Thiel, Sheldon Dunham and Grant McGinn. Tim Allen also had two assists, as did Blair Shimhashi while Bill Adler had three helpers and Fedorus, Mike Benoit and Trevor Geh added single assists.

In Saturday's 14-3 win over Barrhead, things were almost as bad for the opposition. The Devils led 4-1 after the first and 9-1 after two. Sheldon Dunham had two goals and two assists, Brad Pankewicz, Everett Ness, Mark Flodell, Mike Benoit and Bill Adler added singles. Brad Pankewicz also had three assists, as did Blair Shimhashi, while Ness and Cockwill had two assists. Grant McGinn, Thiel and Geh had one assist each.

Friday's win gave manager Harvey Allen a perfect 3-0 record as coach. But on Saturday

Bill Adler goes for a spill in Friday's win over Spruce Grove.

Preston Yachimec and Connally Dunham returned behind the bench after finishing their three game suspensions.

The wins gave the Devils a 13-1 record with their next game in Barrhead on January 2.

ICE CHIPS - The Devils scored 13 times on the power-play in the two games and added two short handed efforts...Danny Carefoot was in net for both wins...They also took 23 penalties to Spruce Grove's 28 and counted for 30 penalties against Barrhead's 31...Robin Cockwill went for stitches after being cut with a high stick in the game against Spruce Grove...Troy Kelly and Jason Tren chuk sat out against Barrhead while Brad Pankewicz and Kelly didn't play against Spruce Grove...Dean Mulgrew may be gone for the season after knee surgery and Paul Staples still has six games left in his suspension...Friday's game was the first back for Blair Shimhashi after serving his two-game suspension.

Minor hockey suspensions are changed

The Drayton Valley Minor Hockey Association has reversed their stand on the suspension of two coaches.

The coach, who was originally suspended until the end of the season, was reinstated at a meeting last Monday night. And, the other coach, who had been suspended until the end of December pending a review, has been suspended until the end of the 1986-87 season.

Minor hockey president Mari McKinley says the executive met on Dec. 15 with the parents and the coaches before deliberating on a final decision for 90 minutes. McKinley, who says she didn't vote, unanimously backs the executives' decision.

Minor hockey doesn't want to reveal the names of the two coaches or the team involved. When the suspension was originally reported in the Dec. 16 issue of The Western Review, McKinley would only say that minor hockey's coaching philosophy was being challenged. No other details for the suspensions have been given.

Girls' hockey tourny planned

A six-team girls' hockey tournament will be held in Drayton Valley on Saturday, Jan. 10.

The Drayton Valley Atoms, a first-year team sponsored by Nelson Welding, will host teams from Whitecourt, Alder Flats, Thorsby, Ponoka and Wabamun. The first game is scheduled for 7 a.m.

The Atoms, ranging in age from nine to 16, have just two experienced hockey players on their roster. Two others have played ringette. In an effort to get some much needed experience, the team has played 10 exhibition games, winning just once.

However, the team feels they will get some much needed exposure at their Jan. 10 tournament.

THANK YOU

The D.V. Gymnastic Club would like to extend their sincere thanks to everyone who sponsored our recent gymnasium.

Tomahawk

School is busy raising funds

By Michael Wall

After four months, Tomahawk school is well into the swing of things.

Our students' government has been working hard, led by Prime Minister Jennifer Copeland. Tracey Pinder is the secretary-treasurer; social minister is Chris Nordine; Brock Franklin is our sports minister and the communications minister is Michael Wall.

As a fund raiser, we sold mandarin oranges. This is our main source of income throughout the year. We will be selling naval oranges and grapefruit after the Christmas break.

An air guitar concert was held recently. There could have been more participants, but all in all it went well and everyone had a good time.

Intramurals have been going well. Grades 3 through 6 have been playing catch volleyball and now are playing handball. Grades 7 through 9 are playing volleyball.

The girls' and boys' volleyball season has just ended. Tomahawk students attended two tournaments. Though neither team won many games, they played well and enjoyed themselves.

SCHOOL NOTEBOOK

The flu, measles and chicken pox affected attendance at two Drayton Valley elementary schools last week.

Eldorado reported 40 kids missing on Monday, Dec. 15 due to the flu, measles and chicken pox. At Elementary B principal Elson Keown reported a 25 per cent absentee on the same day. Three teachers were also absent due to the flu bug.

Elementary B will be sponsoring a name-the-school contest early in the new year. The County of Parkland gave the green light to proceed with the contest at their meeting last week.

H.W. Pickup contributed $271.52 to Santas Anonymous. Half of that total was raised by the students with the student council matching the amount.

Congrats to the H.W.

girls who reached the semi-finals in the recent county volleyball finals.

Students at H.W. danced their way into their Christmas holidays last Friday with a dance. They were dancing for Santas Anonymous, as food donations were accepted.

The concession and Watch programs are now underway at the junior high school. Opening of the concession was delayed due to recent renovations. The Watch program sees parents come to the school and phone the homes of the absentee students. Parents who have participated in this program along with those working in the concession are thanked for their work.

Santas Anonymous have received a big lift from the students at the Tomahawk school. They have contributed $91.55 to this year's campaign.

Budget cuts

Letters are sent home

Parents who have children enrolled in County of Parkland schools are being warned about pending budget cuts.

Elson Keown, principal at Elementary B confirmed reports last Thursday he has been instructed to send a letter from board chairman Vi Helm, home with all the students.

The letter outlines proposed reductions in provincial grants to the school system.

Since the letters went out, Keown says he's had little feedback. But once the county is more specific about how the cutbacks will affect programming, he expects his phone will start ringing.

The county, in their letter to parents, indicates they will be talking to MLAs and government officials about the much talked about budget cuts.

Santa comes to town

Santa came to town last week and visited Elementary B school. Above, a student shares what she wants for Christmas with the jolly fellow.

Christmas breakfast

Students at Frank Maddock high school got into the Christmas spirit last week with a pancake breakfast. Admission to the breakfast was an item of food for Santas Anonymous.

Candy village

It took 10 days and 11 boxes of icing sugar for Mary Ann Evenson and her grandchildren to finish this gingerbread village. In the front row Wayne Meronowich, 10, Eric Evenson, 3, Ryan Meronowich, 4, and Verónica Meronowich, 8, stand behind the creation. Mary Ann Evenson looks on from the background. The village includes four houses and a church.

Twinning project not affected by expected cutbacks

The twinning of Highway 16 shouldn't be hampered by expected provincial budget cuts, says Transportation Minister Al Adair.

Adair made the comment Monday after unveiling the new safe driving campaign for the highway. "We are going to be doing anything we can to continue to meet those deadlines even with the problems we may encounter relative to budget reductions," Adair is quoted as saying in an Edmonton Journal article.

The transportation minister added the twinning project should be complete by 1990 replacing the two lane stretch from Entwistle to Hinton.

Public pressure for the project has been increasing since last January after three Edison teenagers and an older friend died near Nojack in an accident. In 1985, 30 people were killed in seven separate accidents along the "Death Highway." So far in 1986 10 people have died in nine collisions.

Adair was in Edison Monday to promote Care And Responsibility Everyday (CARE), a program to encourage safe driving. The program was designed by RUMI and communities along the highway and it replaces the seven-year-old Operation 16. The campaign will initially focus on new CARE road signs and the distribution of CARE message cards to motorists using the route. "If we all show we CARE we can make Highway 16 the safest, highway in the province," Adair said.

Alder Flats news

Look closer at me, says poem

By Bernice Johnson

The Hector Letourneau home was saved Dec. 18 when the fire truck arrived within 15 minutes of the fire call. They were able to contain the fire to the upstairs spare bedroom where it originated.

Cause of the fire is unknown.

The Covenant Church will be having a Christmas Eve service, Wednesday, Dec. 24 at 8 p.m.

Instead of gathering up a lot of news for this week, I hope my readers will enjoy this poem I came across as I was going through a package of keepsakes my mother-in-law had kept from her trip to Sweden.

For those who have a loved one confined to a nursing home, hospital or lodge, make a special effort to visit throughout the year, not just on special occasions. Let them know they are still loved and needed.

This poem was found in the hospital bedside of an old woman after her death. It was rescued by T. Cowan, a geriatric nurse at Illegiate Hill (England).

Look Closer At Me
What do you see, nurses,
what do you see?

Are you thinking when you are looking at me -

A crabbit old woman, not very wise,
Uncertain of habit, with far-away eyes;

Who dribbles her food and makes no reply
When you say in a loud voice, "I do wish you'd try."

Who seems not to notice the things that you do
And forever is losing a stocking or shoe,
Who, unresisting or not, lets you do as you will

With bathing and feeding, the long day to fill.
Is that what you're thinking? Is that what you see?

Then open your eyes, nurses, you're not looking at me.

I'll tell you who I am, as I sit here so still,
As I use at your bidding, as I eat at your will.

I'm a small child at 10, with a father and mother
Sisters and brothers who love me another,
A young girl of 16 with wings on her feet.

Dreaming that soon now a lover shall meet;
A bride at 20, my heart gives a leap

Remembering the promises that I would in time

At 25, now I have young of my own

Who need me to build a secure, happy home;
A woman of 30, my young now grow fast;

Bound to each other with ties that should last;
At 40, my young sons, now grown, will be gone.

At 50, once more babies play round my knee
Again we know children, my loved one and me.

Dark days are upon us, my husband is dead,

I look to the future, I shudder with dread,

For my young are all busy, raising young of their own,
And I think of the years and the love that I've known,

I'm an old woman now and nature is cruel,
"Tis her jest to make old age look like a fool.

The body it crumbles, grace and vigor depart.
There is now a stone where I once had a heart.

But inside this old carcass, a young girl still dwells

And now and again my battered heart swells;

I remember the joys, I remember the pain,
And I'm loving and living life over again,

And I think of the years, all too few, gone too fast
And accept the stark fact that nothing will last.

So open your eyes, nurses, open and see
Not a crabbit old woman, look closer - see me!

"Merry Christmas to everybody."

Big Town

Why is it so hard to find a good babysitter?

Have you ever noticed that when you need a babysitter there is none to be found?

On Saturday I needed one and I think I called every teenage girl in the entire community, with no success. What I should do is make my list of phone numbers available to all the teenage boys and make a small fortune! With the length of my list I may never have to work again!

Because I had no luck trying to find a babysitter, I asked my neighbor (who, by the way, used to be my friend). She agreed, so off Rebecca and Ryan went to Sandy's house to spend the afternoon.

She told the kids (she has two girls, almost the same age as mine) to play downstairs. Three minutes later — CRASH!

She went down to investigate. Ryan couldn't reach the light switch so he threw a toy truck at it to turn it on. A big fire engine truck.

Small scolding — after all, it did show some imagination, right? Sandy goes back upstairs.

Three minutes later Katie, her little girl, is screaming! Sandy rushes downstairs. Ryan had pulled the curtain rod down and Katie had stepped on the nail.

Another scolding. Stop that imagination...you don't need that curtain to play ghosts!

Sandy goes back upstairs.

Three minutes later Katie comes upstairs with a broken coffee table leg. It seems Ryan was playing 'car'.

He'd flipped the coffee table over and was 'driving' his car when he broke off one of the legs. Can you believe this?

This time Sandy had had enough. She gave Ryan a spanking and yelled at the kids to sit down and watch television. NOTHING ELSE. Just sit on the couch and watch TV.

Ryan does this of course, only first he gets a little chair, puts it on the couch and then sits on it and watches TV. The chair goes through the couch.

Right about then I phoned Sandy, just to see how things are going and to tell her I would be getting off work a little early. I was really surprised when she said, "How about NOW!"

Sandy is normally the calmest, most patient person I know, so I definitely knew something was wrong when she started getting hysterical over the phone.

What a day! I worked for about 92 cents an hour that day — Sandy got the rest.

Why do I find it so hard to get a babysitter?

Probably because work has gotten out that if you babysit Ryan you ask for a damage deposit first.

Actually, Ryan learned a pretty hard lesson that day. I made him clean out his piggybank and give it to Sandy. There was only about $2 in it, but to Ryan it was all his wealth. (We are talking BIG tears here.)

It's incredible how nicely he plays now. Especially at Sandy's.

Turkeys are a traditional meal

In many Canadian homes, turkey tends to be the traditional Christmas day meal.

For those of you wondering about the quality of turkey to buy, here are some guidelines. The general rule is to allow 375 grams (¼ lb) per serving. If you want to allow for leftovers, allow 500 grams (1 lb) per serving.

Whole turkeys can be kept frozen for one year, turkey parts for six months. Once thawed, treat as a fresh turkey and don't refreeze until it's cooked.

Turkey can be thawed using one of three methods: in the refrigerator for 10 hours/kg (5 hours/lb); in cold water for two hours/kg (1 hour/lb); or at room temperature, but in a brown paper bag for three hours/kg (1½ hours/lb). Be sure you leave the original plastic wrap on no matter what method you choose. Never leave a turkey sitting completely thawed at room temperature. Food poisoning could be the end result — a nasty way to spend Christmas night!

Preparing your turkey
Avoid contaminating other foods with raw turkey drippings by washing all knives, chopping blocks and countertops with hot, soapy water. Remember to wash your hands thoroughly too. Remove neck and giblets from body cavity. Simmer in salted water until tender, about 1½ to 2 hours. Use in soup, gravy or stuffing.

Season cavity with salt or poultry seasoning or use your favorite stuffing.

If you choose to make the stuffing the day before you cook the turkey, make sure it is refrigerated. Put cold stuffing in the cold bird immediately before roasting.

If stuffing is prepared the same day also be sure to stuff the turkey just before roasting. Allow 250-305 mL (1-¼ cups) stuffing for each kilogram or 2 lbs. of turkey.

You can also cook stuffing in a separate casserole dish. To do so, add about 25 mL (2 tbsp.) liquid for every 250-350 mL (1-¼ cups) of stuffing and cook in a covered casserole dish during the last hour of roasting time.

Brush with melted butter or oil and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place on a

County studying enrichment opportunities for schools

By Rich Gossen
Schools in the County of Parkland system are already taking steps to provide enrichment opportunities for their students, says an associate superintendent.

Leroy Sloan indicated recently that, although school trustees are still studying the recommendations of consultants who were asked to look into the development of programs for gifted and talented students, schools haven't waited to begin employing teaching practices which recognise individual needs.

Some of the new enrichment programs based on county policy are evident at Keephills school, he said.

Among the premises underlying county policy is the recognition that it's not possible to reliably and accurately measure "giftedness."

Individuals with unremarkable academic records and IQs have achieved ed remarkable results in every field of human endeavor.

Creativity can be learned, the county maintains, but the talents of any group of students is so diverse, a single program of enrichment is bound to be inappropriate for some of its members.

Since gifts can't be ranked in order of importance, students should have the opportunity to develop whatever gifts or talents they possess.

Principal Rick Hayes says teachers at Keephills school encourage students to "go beyond the assigned task."

They do so by providing a variety of resources for stimulating inquiry.

The school's enrichment programs are designed to develop critical and creative thinking skills and to enable students to "find out about the unknown" through studies of the future.

Learning centres, located in classrooms throughout the school, offer students a choice of thinking skills or future study opportunities. Students decide "what's right for them."

Teaching intern Lela Scranton has been working extensively with County of Parkland consultant Bonnie Cannon to develop learning centres and compile resources suitable for a variety of enrichment activities.

Since September, at least 15 learning centres have been developed at the school, she pointed out.

Check fuses

If a fuse blows, it means your electrical system has been overloaded, or that an electrical fault has occurred.

When a fuse blows because of an overload, unplug the appliances on the overloaded circuit and turn the main switch on the panelboard to the "off" position.

Make sure your hands are dry and that you are standing on a dry surface.

If you are using a plug fuse, screw it in as tightly as possible. Fuses not tightened properly can cause a bad connection, resulting in a heat build-up.

Over a period of time, plug fuses may become loose. It is a good practice to check them every six months to make sure they are tight enough.

Never overfuse. If, for example, you replace a 15 amp fuse with a 30 amp fuse, the 30 amp fuse can allow the wiring to overheat.

Christmas greeneries

History behind mistletoe, holly and ivy

By Lois Peterson

Christmas greeneries have become an attractive and traditional part of decorating for the festive season.

Mistletoe was sacred to peoples of ancient Europe and sometimes used in sacrificial ceremonies by Druid priests.

Mistletoe held miraculous healing powers to the Celts; in Celtic language mistletoe is named "all-heal".

The kissing tradition is thought to come from Norse myths. Eighteenth-century England adopted the mistletoe kissing ball as part of Christmas decorations.

In Germany, holly was considered a symbol of good luck against the hostile forces of nature, while in old

England, a sprig of holly tied to their beds was thought to guard spinsters against ghosts and devils!

Ivy was banned from inside Christian homes for centuries because it was associated with pagan festivals as the ancient symbol of Bacchus, god of wine and revelry. Ivy was accepted as a decoration to the outside of a dwelling, however, and has now become a Christmas tradition in song and fact in many areas of the world.

If you are interested in reading more about the celebrations of Christmas, the library has a good selection of books from which to choose. Two brand-new titles to look for — The Whole Christmas Catalogue (1985) Tern Enterprises, includes songs, stories, poems, traditions. A selection on holiday entertaining and parties, crafts and gifts complete this colorful and attractive book.

A Christmas Celebration c1986 Orbis book — from Great Britain comes this gem of Christmas magic past and present. From the history and traditions of Christmas celebrations, continue through section after section to include recipes, crafts. A good selection on gift wrapping, table settings and decorations, fresh table centres and garlands.

Beware the power of evergreens!

Bay — ancient symbol of power, used for wreaths of Roman heroes.

Holly — represents drops of blood which fell from Christ's crown of thorns. Protects against witches.

Ivy — pagan plant, protects against drunkenness.

Laurel — cleanser, protector. Symbolizes victory, honor.

Mistletoe — held to promote fertility and peace. Protects from evil spirits.

Rosemary — plant of friendship, remembrance. Most common garnish for traditional bon's head.

Yew — although poisonous to man, reputed to be good defence against witches.

Practical and nostalgic, A Christmas Celebration is a book you won't want to miss! And — someone just won a copy in the Christmas customs and card tree event at the library!

The library is closed Dec. 25, 26 and Jan. 1.

For the remainder of the holiday season, regular hours are in effect: Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday 2:30-7:30 p.m.; Wednesday - 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Saturdays - 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Have a happy holiday season!

Hosts have important role at parties

During this time of year the socializing and camaraderie of the season carries most people away on sheer "Christmas spirit".

If you are hosting a party this year, be certain you don't let your guests get too carried away on Christmas spirit. As a host, you are responsible for the friends and family members you entertain at your home. You should plan ways so people who wish to drive home can remain sober.

Drivers — watch for buses

Effective Dec. 1, all school bus drivers in Alberta were required to activate their alternately-flashing, warning lights when loading or unloading students unless specifically instructed not to do so by a municipal bylaw.

There may be some confusion in municipalities where drivers may be seeing school buses with flashing

If you are hosting a party during the holiday season, The Alberta Motor Association suggests you be "first a friend, then a host." Follow these guidelines for a safe and happy Christmas season:

- Make non-alcoholic drinks available to your guests, especially those whom you know are overindulged, or who will be driving others home.
- Serve them in elegant tall-stemmed wine glasses which may encourage guests to pass up alcoholic beverages.

lights within corporate limits for the first time.

Drivers are asked to be especially alert for school buses in December and are reminded that they are required to stop from both directions when coming upon a school bus with flashing red warning lights (unless they are on the opposite side of an unbroken median).

• Offer guests a variety of starchy, rich snacks, entrees and desserts during the party. Food helps slow down the absorption of alcohol into the bloodstream.

• Provide some sort of entertainment to steer all the attention from the bar.

• Set a good example as a host and drink moderately.

• Keep an eye on guests, and if they are getting too drunk, steer them away from the booze to the food.

• Don't push drinks on guests, and don't mix "stiff" drinks.

• Stop serving drinks an hour before the party breaks up. Bring out a dessert, non-alcoholic beverages and tea.

If inebriated friends are about to drive themselves home, urge them to stay around a little longer. Then make sure they don't drink in the interim.

• Don't let a drunk get behind the wheel. Get a sober person to drive him/her home, offer to call a taxi, or have the person stay overnight.

The Alberta Motor Association wishes to urge all those hosting parties and celebrations this year to be: first a friend, then a host.

Look for CSA stamp when buying ladder

If you need to use a ladder to place decorations at the top of the Christmas tree, or on the outside of your home, remember to watch your step.

To use your ladder safely, heed the four main dos and don'ts:

- don't overreach while standing on a ladder.
- don't stand on the top cap of a step ladder. This greatly reduces the ladder's stability.
- do secure the footings of an extension ladder, and set it up at a proper angle.
- do pay attention to safety warnings marked on the ladder, and to the literature you received when you purchased it.

Carelessness and misuse is the greatest cause of ladder accidents around the home. CSA certifies step and extension ladders used around a household, but the safe use of these products is up to you.

The CSA mark on ladders means the manufacturer's product has been tested for strength under situations of simulated use, and meets the design and performance requirements of the standard.

Because CSA certification of ladders is not required by law, both certified and uncertified ladders can be purchased on the market. A wise consumer will look for the CSA mark.

Bill C-19

Drunk driving stats for Alberta

Christmas is a time for friends and family to gather and celebrate the holiday

But for some Alberta families, Christmas this year will seem tragically empty.

"People tend to think of deaths caused by drunk driving in a very detached manner until someone close to them is affected," says Dr. John Harms, chairman of the board of the Alberta Motor Association.

In 1985, 138 Albertans lost their lives in alcohol-related fatalities.

"The tragedy of that number," says Harms, "is magnified when one thinks of the tremendous loss that touches so many other lives."

In the past three years, the number of alcohol-related fatalities has risen:

- 1983 recorded 121 lives.
- 1984 recorded 133 people dead and 1985 recorded 138 casualties as a result of alcohol-related accidents.
- Over the past five years in Alberta, 28 to 30 per cent of all fatal traffic collisions were alcohol-related.

From April 1 to Sept. 30 of this year, the solicitor general's department recorded 10,009 total convictions in all classes of alcohol-related driving offenses.

The far-reaching problem of drunk-driving has not been ignored by federal or provincial authorities. Last year the federal government passed Bill C-19. This bill increases the minimum penalties under the Criminal Code for driving while impaired (DWI). Two new and more serious offenses carrying penalties of 10 to 14 years imprisonment respectively were created by the bill - causing bodily harm and causing death while driving impaired.

But the real impact of Bill C-19 is the effect it has on first- and second-time offenders. No longer is it possible to throw yourself on the mercy of the court, hoping to be let off on your own recognition.

First offenders are slapped with a minimum $300 fine and a license suspension of six months (Alberta). Second offenders face a minimum jail sentence of 14 days and prohibition from driving for one year (Alberta).

The REAL Story of Christmas

Thousands of years before the Messiah was born, heathens honored a pagan deity in rites remarkably similar to those of Christmas. Is there a connection?

- Just what do pine trees, holly wreaths, mistletoe, yule logs, Santa Claus, and eggnog have to do with the Savior's birth?
- Was the Messiah even born December 25?
- What does the Bible say?
